Where business meets inspiration - exceptional event spaces.

Sited on the edge of an ancient volcanic caldera, the Byron region was originally known by The Arakwal people, one of the tribes of the Bundjalung Nation, its traditional custodians, as 'Cavanbah', which means 'meeting place'.

Today Byron Bay is one of the world's premium, unspoiled leisure destinations. Amidst a backdrop of majestic rainforests and pristine oceans, Byron attracts many visitors every year to play, work, and most of all, gather together.

Surrounded by 50 acres of grasslands, forests, rolling dunes and the pristine ocean frontage of Belongil Beach, Elements of Byron streamlines its priceless natural setting with unsurpassed event facilities and 202 freestanding, private, sustainably designed villas.

For groups seeking a truly unforgettable and rejuvenating business event, our resort provides luxurious, nature-inspired spaces designed to promote wellness naturally. Guests can elevate their experience with bespoke inclusions such as health-focused catering menus, guided rainforest tours, elixir mocktail workshops, and transformative yoga and breathwork sessions. It's the ultimate destination for businesses and organisations to reconnect, revitalise, and embrace authentic well-being.

Energy and Design

Our villas are powered by over 2,000 solar panels and supported by a 1000kW battery system, ensuring a reliable source of clean energy. Complementing this is the Byron Solar Train, which extends our impact by feeding surplus energy back into the grid and offering sustainable transport options to town. With passive solar principles integrated into our architecture and only 30% of the site developed, we celebrate nature with over 70% of the land dedicated to untouched wilderness.

Conservation and Waste Reduction

Elements of Byron is home to one of New South Wales' largest privately owned conservation areas, supporting over 200,000 native plants and critically endangered ecosystems. Sustainability is woven into everyday practices, from recycling Nespresso capsules to replacing plastic bottles with reusable glass options to reduce single use plastic.

Sustainable Catering

Azure Restaurant proudly sources local and native ingredients, minimising food miles and supporting ethical agriculture. Creative initiatives, such as utilising "ugly" produce and recycling cooking oil into bio-diesel, ensure minimal waste. To minimise food waste and give back to the local community, surplus catering from events is donated to Liberation Larder Byron Bay, a not-for-profit providing meals and groceries to those in need

Social Responsibility

Our partnership with Beacon Laundry highlights our commitment to the community, providing eco- friendly laundry services and meaningful employment for those facing barriers to mainstream work. Choosing Elements of Byron means hosting events in a luxurious space that respects the planet and creates lasting social impact.
